

Please join the Pennsylvania AFL-CIO for our Biennial Legislative Conference.

We will plan labor's approach to the important issues confronting working women and men in our Commonwealth, as well as discuss how to protect the rights of union members and working families in Pennsylvania, during the 2017-2018 Legislative Session.

We will again feature breakout sessions focusing on key legislative issues that we anticipate from our opposition, as well as discuss ways we can move a more worker-friendly agenda forward.

The afternoon general session will include time for unions to discuss additional legislative fights, as well as pro-worker, pro-job legislation that the labor movement can support.

We look forward to seeing you!
